Substance Use and Abuse Health Education Curriculum Overview

In an effort to build resiliency among our youth and to foster safe environments conducive to student learning, the Jackson County School District will require that all students in Grades K-5 complete instruction each year with regards to Substance Use and Abuse Health Education. The chosen Too Good for Drugs curriculum at the elementary school level has lessons designed that are tailored to the intellectual, cognitive, and social development of the student. Interactive games and activities help students visualize and apply the strategies and skills directly, so they can begin to apply them in their daily life right away.

Substance use and its effect on the body are introduced when developmentally appropriate. In the youngest grades, the lessons develop an understanding of what is healthy to put in the body and what is not. This foundation prepares students for discussions about tobacco, alcohol, and other drug use in later elementary years.
